Some recent exam successes of note

Bilkees Jassat, of the audit department in London, successfully completed the advanced stage of her ACA (Association of Chartered Accountants), which means she is now a qualified chartered accountant.

Alice Walbanke has passed ACCA (Association of Chartered Certified Accountants) qualification. She joined our Saffron Walden straight after her A Levels five ago and works on a wide range of projects, from auditing accounts to tax and VAT.

Christine Pegrum has passed her ATT (Association of Tax Technicians) exams. She works in the tight knit tax team at our Saffron Walden office and will soon start work on the CTA to become a Chartered Tax Adviser.

And last, but not least, Shipleys principal Simon Robinson has passed his diploma in charity accounting. He now adds the letters DChA after his name.

Congratulations to Caroline Kameen (above, left) and Sarah Leggatt (right), both of our London office, who have passed their final examinations and qualified as Chartered Accountants. Caroline and Sarah both joined us as students in 2004, after graduating from the Universities of Edinburgh and Kent respectively.

Congratulations!

Our students have continued their record of success in examinations. In their final professional exams this year our students achieved a 90% pass rate in all three papers, against a national average of 79.7%.
